

Setting description - Iron Man

Stealthily, the sun leapt behind the black spiky rocks. The night like a hunting snow leopard approached the beach. Fearlessly, the mighty towering cliffs peered down from the heavens. Slowly the sea continued chewing at the cliff face... CRASH!! A rock glacier had just fallen into the bubbling foaming sea and butterflied pieces of rock littered the ocean. When lightning struck the lighthouse smouldering pieces of blackened wood flew left, right and centre... then silence. The only sound that could be heard was the gentle whistle of the cool night air. The sound of foot stomps filled the air... who did they belong to? A friend, foe or something else? No one knows...
