

Setting description (The Iron Man)

The sun stomped across the heavens, followed by a glistening moon. Twilight unfurled. An armada of clouds bombarded the border that separates land from the sea. Torpedoes of rain smashes into the sand while spears of lightning peppered the rock face. Birds flew through the air, desperately fleeing the storm. The wind screamed for mercy as the billowing foam formed frothing whirlpools. Gorgon like waves slapped the jagged rocks as billowing trees swayed in the wind. Titanic footsteps distorted the scene. What made them? Nobody knows...
