

South Haringay School Remote Learning Policy

Member of staff responsible: Neil Reilly
Date to be reviewed: Autumn Term 2022

Remote Learning Homework:

Children will be expected to read daily at home using either: books sent home from school or accessing our online library (MyOn, AR reader KS2). Creative homework will be issued half termly via 'Google Classroom'. Pupils will be given homework linked to the current curriculum learning. The intent of the homework is to consolidate classroom learning and to extend learning beyond the classroom, giving children an opportunity to further challenge themselves. Children are encouraged to creatively showcase the knowledge and skills learned across their current topic. Pupils are encouraged to be independent and to attempt all homework set. The school understands the challenges associated with home learning and will support our parents and children in completing any tasks, where required. Parents will be informed as to when creative homework content will be uploaded to 'Google Classroom' by their class teacher, via the school's text messaging service.

It is expected that parents contact the school via the school's admin account, if there are any concerns around using 'Google Classroom.' admin@shsharingey.co.uk

Our key priorities for remote homework learning are:

- To mirror the high-quality teaching that has taken place in class each week
- To extend and challenge children beyond the classroom
- To offer a platform where families can support home learning effectively
- To creatively exemplify knowledge and skills learned

Remote learning Individual absence:

In the event of a child being unable to attend school due to illness, the school will not be providing online work for that individual whilst they are off. However, if an individual is unable to attend school due to a COVID-19 related issue, work will be provided via 'Google Classroom' for those children. The work set will be of a similar content to what is being taught in class during that period. The deputy head teacher and class teachers will monitor all work uploaded to 'Google Classroom' and will give feedback where relevant.

Should pupils or parents wish to contact the teacher or the school, they should do so via the

Remote learning: Closure of a bubble

In the unfortunate event that the school is required to close a 'Bubble', that 'Bubble' will be transferred to daily remote learning via Google Classroom. The school will provide a timetable of work for the children that will consist of daily: English, maths, reading and a weekly creative task, linked to the current topic.

Children are expected to attempt the work that has been set and hand it back to the teacher via 'Google Classroom'. If the teacher is well enough to do so: they will deliver some live, 'Zoom' style lesson during this period. However, the majority of lessons taught by the child's class teacher that are pre-recorded 'Zoom' style videos. The deputy head teacher and class teachers will monitor all work uploaded to 'Google Classroom' and will give feedback where relevant.

Should pupils or parents wish to contact the teacher or the school, they should do so via the school's admin email: admin@shsharingey.co.uk

Our key priorities for remote learning are:

- To create high quality activities that will engage and challenge the children during the isolation period
- To minimise the impact of children not attending South Harringay School during the isolation period
- To offer a strong link between school and home, giving the children and parents a sense of familiarity and structure during the isolation period.
- To offer a platform where families can support home learning effectively

Remote learning Full closure:

In the event of the whole school requiring to close, all learning, in all year groups will transfer to 'Google Classroom.' All pupils will receive a daily timetable of learning that will consist of: English, maths, reading, a weekly creative task, linked to the current topic and a music lesson (Yr1-6)

Children are expected to attempt the work that has been set and hand it back to the teacher via 'Google Classroom'. Teachers will deliver some live, 'Zoom' style lesson during this period. However, the majority of lessons taught by the child's class teacher will be pre-recorded 'Zoom' style videos. The deputy head teacher and class teachers will monitor all work uploaded to 'Google Classroom' and will give feedback where relevant.

Should pupils or parents wish to contact the teacher or the school, they should do so via the school's admin email: admin@shsharingey.co.uk

Our key priorities for remote learning are:

- To create high quality activities that will engage and challenge children during the isolation period.
- To minimise the impact of children not attending South Haringay School during the isolation period
- To offer a strong link between school and home, giving the children and parents a sense of familiarity and structure during the isolation period
- To offer a platform where families can support home learning effectively

E-Safety and Safeguarding

Designated Safeguarding leads:

Ian Scotchbrook
Neil Reilly
Ayse Thomas

If anyone has a concern about a child they must contact the school immediately by phone or through the school's admin email: admin@shsharingey.co.uk

Whilst using the platform, children, staff and parents need to follow the school's e-safety policy. All online learning through 'Google Classroom' is monitored by the teaching team, led by the Deputy head teacher, Neil Reilly. Any Safeguarding concerns that may occur whilst a child is using 'Google Classroom' are reported through 'MyConcern' and the DSL is informed.

